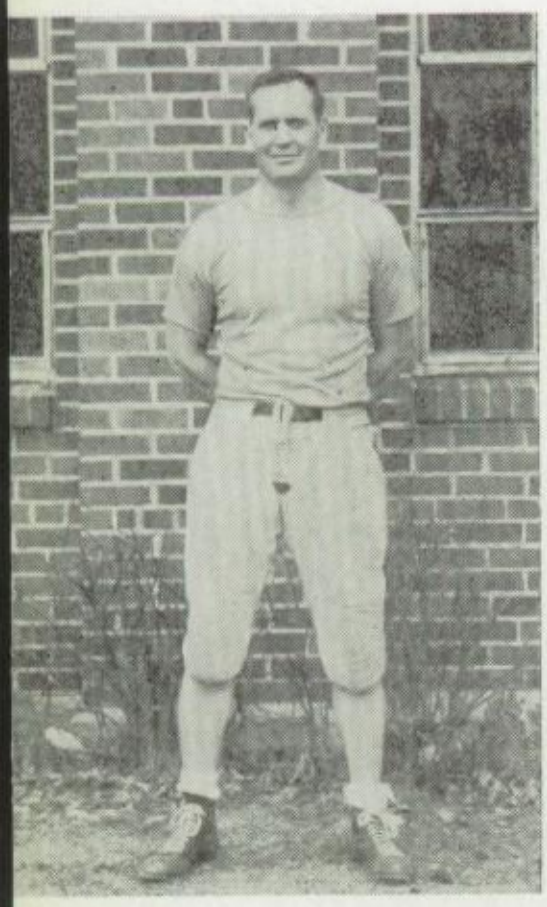
ATHLETICS



The 1945 football season opened with 35 boys reporting to Coach Helgason. After about two weeks of practice the team journeyed to Villisca where they defeated the Blue Jays 14 to 0. Our next game was with Greenfield, ending in a 6 to 6 tie. We marked up another victory at the expense of Clarinda 13 to 6. Although Orient's passes caught us off guard, our power paid off in the last quarter and we won 39 to 19. On October 19th the Red Raider invaded enemy territory for their only defeat, Creston 20, Corning 6. The following week we made a come back and defeated Lenox 38 to 6. On November 2, over one thousand spectators thrilled to the defeat of Red Oak, 20 to 13. The 1945 season came to a close with the playing of the tradiional Armisice Day opponent, the the Bedford Buldogs. We defeated them by a score of 27 to 19, ending the season with a record of 6 wins and 1 tie, and one defeat.

Coach Harry Helgason

Our offense was featured by the passing of Burt Richey and the line plunging of Tub Turner, with Hamilton and Johnston also picking up their share of yards. The veteran end, "Moose" Moser was outstanding in line play, but he was helped out on many occasions by the line play of Amdor, Sheppard, Leonard, Hamilton, Cline and Coulthard.

Thespians

The National Thespians Society of C. H. S. acquired its charter April 1, 1944. Qualifications for membership are based upon a period system. Points are received on such achievments as a role in a play, as prompter, costume chairman, radio speaking, interpretive reading, etc. Twenty-five points are required for membership, twelve of which must be acquired by actual play work. When one has the required number of points he may become a member providing two thirds of the organization votes him in. Each new member must undergo one of formal and one day of informal initiation before their membership is final. The aim of the society is "to create a spirit of active intellegent interests in dramatics among boys and girls of our secondary schools." The motto is: "Act well your part, there all the honor lies." The Thespians colors of blue and gold are represented in their flowers of yellow roses and blue delphiniums. Every member receives a 10 karat gold pin. Rewards of 14 karat gold pins studded either in pearls or sapphires are given each year to the boy and girl who give the most outstanding performances.

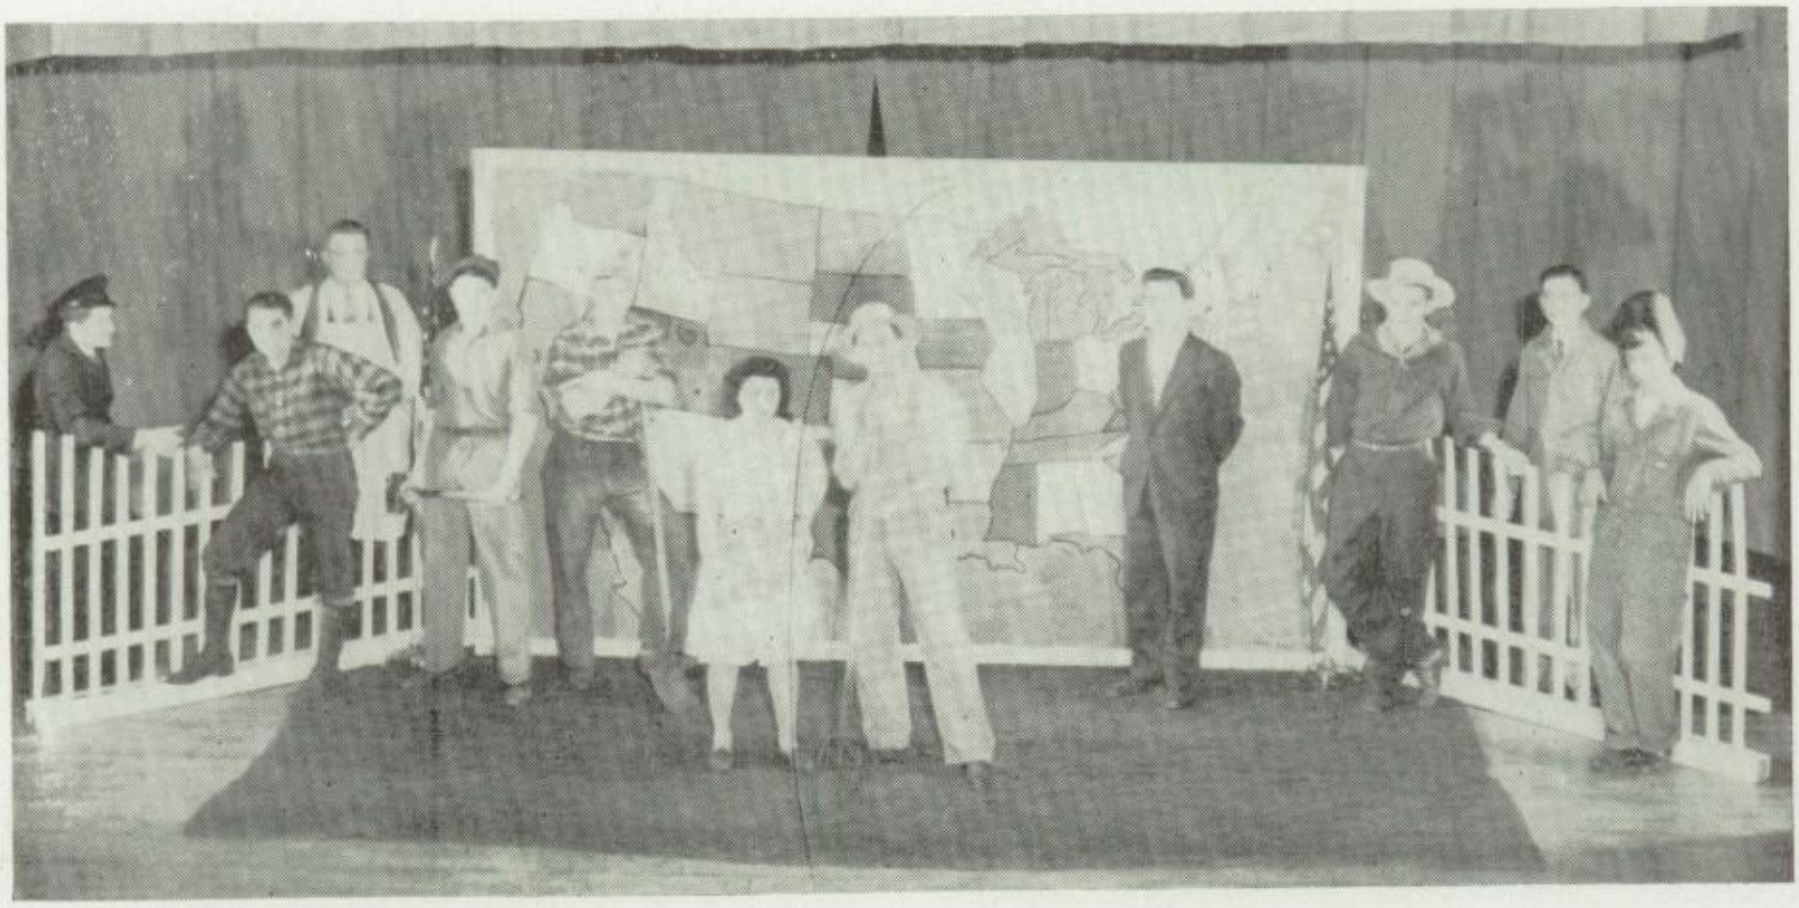
This choir aids considerably in developing sense of pitch and ability to sing part music before students enter high school where they will be members of the various choruses.

Senior Class Pageant



Since 1942, C. H. S. graduating classes have presented pageants as the major part of commencement night activities. That year the previous plan of presenting a speaker was discontinued and instead, the class itself presented a program. The Corning high school pageants have attracted a great deal of interest and some national recognition. Last year's pageant was one of four chosen to be reprinted in the National Education Association Commencement Manual for 1946. This was one of the highest honors ever to come to any efforts sponsored by our school.

The pageants are usually presented as a joint effort of the speech, English and vocal music departments, and approximately 100 students take part each year. Themes for our pageants have been "Freedom," "The American Bill of Rights," "Our National Heritage," and "A Tribute to the American Worker."

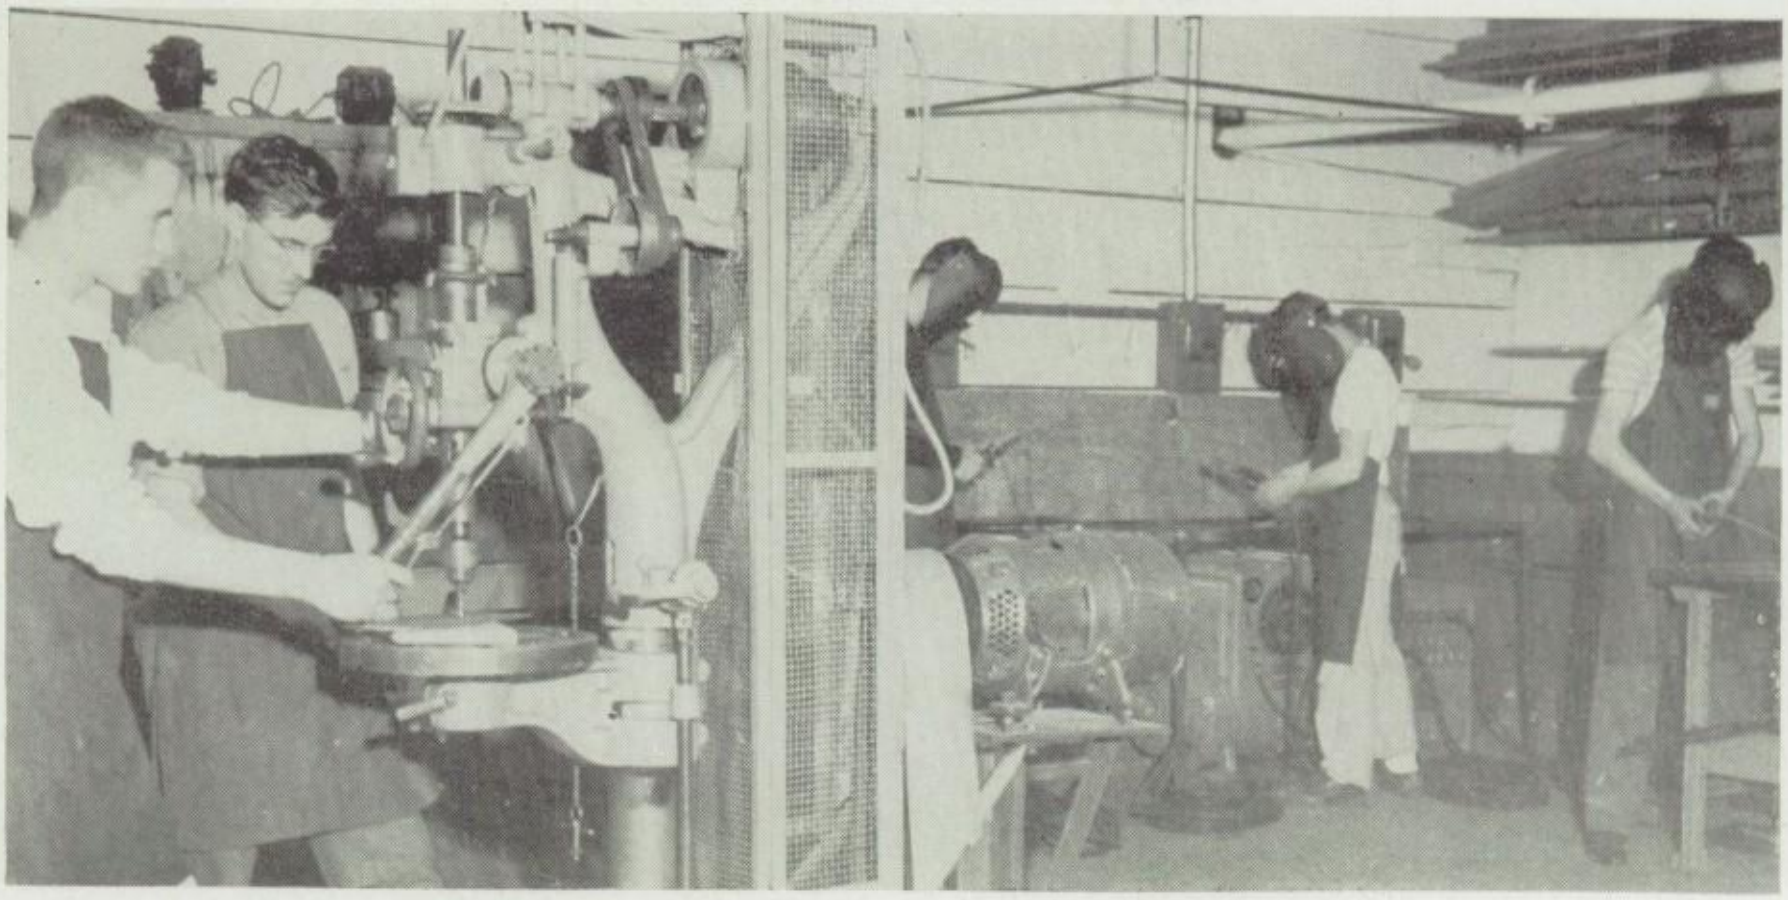
Vocational Agriculture Department



The vocational Agriculture department of C. H. S. is one of the best in Southwest Iowa, in addition to being one of the largest. It ranks ninth in size of the 133 departments in the state, and its Future Farmer chapter consisting of 63 members, is the second largest in Iowa. It is the only agriculture department in Adams County or within a raduis of twenty-two miles.

Work in this department may be taken over a four-year period with a year to each of the following: animal husbandry, farm shop, soils and crops, farm management. A new shop has been put into use this year with work for boys in mechanical drawing, welding, forge and other metal work, carpentry, electricity, auto mechanics, farm machinery and other types of shop activities. At C. H. S. it is now possible to take three years of shop work if you so desire All vocational agriculture boys have home projects which annually run into thousands of dollars in value, as well as provide excellent experience in farm practices

This department receives federal (Smith-Hughes) support and naturally must meet the highest standards.

Vocational Homemaking Department

One of the very practical courses offered in C. H. S. is that for vocational homemaking, the only such department in Adams County. This course is required to meet the exceedingly high requirements for teachers and equipment set up by the federal government which helps support it. The work is in advance of that offered in ordinary home economics department in that it covers such field as social relations, home management, personal development, personal grooming, child care, marketing, textiles, interior decoration, as well as the traditional sewing and cooking.

The department assists in making the plans for the daily lunch program which during the winter weeks serves 300 complete lunches each day. There is probobly no other course high school girls can take which they can put into use as quickly and as completely as they can the training they receive in vocational homemaking. For the girls who wish, there is a three-year curriculum in this department.

Commercial Department

In the commercial department of C. H. S. you will be able to receive all of the training given in the recognized business courses. This includes two years of typewriting, shorthand, bookkeeping, commercial arithmetic, commercial law and junior business training. The commercial department has always been recognized as one of the strongest in the school, and while contests in commercial subjects were still being held, Corning contestants ranked very high. A rather large number of graduates of this department have gone out to excellent positions in the business world.

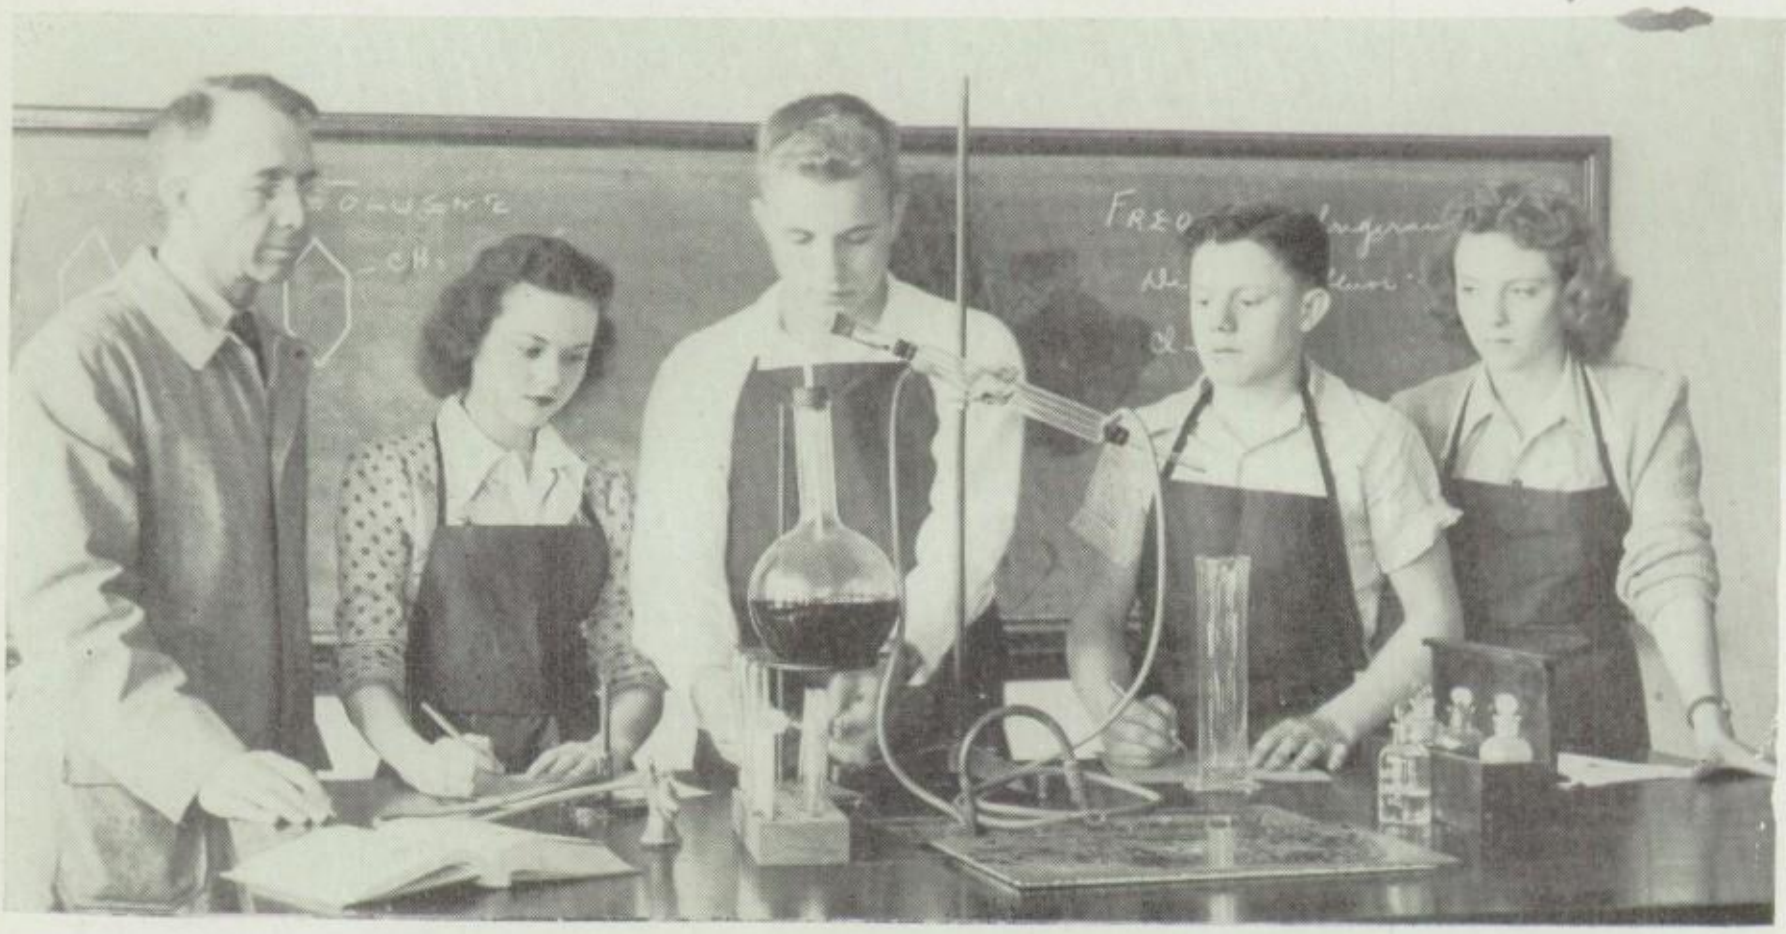
It is believed that next year it will be possible to resume the distributive education program discontinued during the war. This plan allows high school students who are in the last year of their commercial course to hold regular jobs down town during a part of the school day, jobs for which they receive some pay and which give them training and high school credit in the commercial field.

Normal Training Department

The C. H. S. normal training department is the second largest in the state of Iowa. For many years, the majority of the rural teachers in Adams County have been graduates of C. H. S. During the school year 1945-46, 40 of the 67 teachers of the county have been our own high school girls. Although new state legislation makes it necessary to discontinue all normal training departments in 1948, ours will continue until that time to help relieve the shortage of teachers by producing trained persons for the rural schools.

In addition to taking the prescribed subjects set up by law for future teachers, our normal training students receive excellent experience by doing practice teaching in the rural schools of Adams County, performing the work that is identical with what they will do when they go into teaching. The 23 students who are members of the Future Teachers of America chapter in the Corning high school are under the direction of Miss Anna Lynam, who was for a number of years county superintendent of schools. This, in addition to other experience, makes her highly qualified for the position of instructor of teacher training work.

College Preparatory Course



Many students attending C. H. S. are enrolled in its excellent college preparatory course, one of the five separate courses offered in the high school. Students who plan to go on to higher education are advised to compare the offerings of C. H. S. with those of other schools.

In this area, only Corning provides courses in such subjects as Latin, two years, algebra, geometry, advanced algebra, trigonometry, a complete four-year offering in science, namely, general science, biology, physics, chemistry. These are taught by highly skilled instructors who are specialists in their fields and who must meet the high requirements of the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools. The N. C. A. also has high standards for equipment in laboratories, libraries, shop and classrooms. C. H. S. is the only N. C A. school with the county. Graduates from North Central schools are admitted to practically any college or university.
